REPORT FAVORABLE TO RIVER BRIDGE EXPECTED

Railroad Work Held Up
for the Time
Being

BUILDING TO STATE LINE

Buckhannon and Northern and P. & L. E. Will Make
Connections

The early construction of the new Monongahela railroad bridge across the Monongahela river at Millsboro, a short distance above Geneva hinges upon the report of the secretary of war on the plans into the hands of Colonel H. C. Newcomer, Federal engineer, Pittsburgh, in charge of the Monongahela river. It is thought by officials of the Monongahela Railroad company that the plans will be approved by the secretary of war shortly and that the order will be given by Pittsburgh and Lake Erie officials to begin the construction of the extension of the Monongahela railroad from the present terminus at Martin to the West Virginia State line, connecting with the Buckhannon and Northern railroad, now being built from the state line to Rivesville, W. Va.

In event of an adverse report by the secretary of war, there is a possibility of a change in the present plans and the construction of the other connections with the Buckhannon and Northern.

The work on the Buckhannon and Northern is progressing nicely. The contractors have been seriously hampered by the bad weather of the past month, but considerable grading has been done. There are approximately 600 men on the job now.

ORCHESTRA PIANO FOR ICE CREAM PARLOR

George Wagner Installs Fine Instrument in McKean Avenue Establishment

George Wagner who conducts the Wagner ice cream parlor and confectionary store on McKean avenue has installed a five piece orchestra piano in his establishment. The orchestra piano is of the well known Wuritzer make. The five pieces are piano, flute, drums, mandolin and violin. Only the best music has been secured for the instrument.

Will Start Operations

The Charleroi Coal works has been closed down since Monday while the stacks were being repaired. Operations will be resumed tomorrow.

Streets Present Bare Appearance

Carolina Poplars Cut Down to Save Sewers From Destruction

Fallowfield avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets presents a rather barren appearance now on account of Carolina poplar shade trees having been cut down. The trees had grown to a good size, but such was their destructive effects upon sewers, that the owners had them killed gratuitously and without the request of council, or any civic body. It is an act that will have to be performed on trees of the kind in various parts of the town before long.

WHETZEL RESIGNS HIS JOB

Does Not Care to Stand in With Anti-Feehan Men

MUSS REACHES COURTS

Sub-District President O'Leary was in town from Roscoe last night, and while here made of statement that Stephen Whetzel, the Brownsville who was elected secretary-treasurer of the Pittsburgh district miners' organization by the so-called insurgents, had resigned from that office. Whetzel, it is said, is now supporting the regular organization of which Francis Feehan is president.

The controversy between the Feehan and Gibbons organizations has at least reached the courts, the organization of which the latter is the head having filed a suit asking that the books, papers, funds and all belongings be turned over to them.

MONTHLY MEETING OF BUSINESS MEN

Business of Importance Expected to be Taken Up
Tonight

The regular monthly meeting of the Charleroi Business Men's association will be held in their rooms, Kirk and Clark building, this evening at 8:30 o'clock. A dutch lunch will be served following the business session. Important business is expected to come up.

CHURCH LEAGUE SEASON WILL BEGIN ON MAY 1

Executive Committee Holds First Meeting and Decides Upon Length of the Playing Season

MANAGERS HAVE TO REVISE LISTS OF PLAYERS

The Charleroi Church league baseball season will begin May 1 and end August 6, according to the decision of the executive committee of their meeting held last night. The season will consist of 56 games, the same as last year.

Five members of the executive committee were present at the meeting. Dr. Edwin McKay, the league president, was in the chair. Others present were John Cornell, Christians; Prof. I. T. Daniel, First Presbyterian; Samuel Hawkins, Baptists; R. A. Roberts, Episcopal.

The lists of players were presented for the various teams and every one of them referred back to the various managers for correction. The addresses of the various players are not as complete as desired.

MOVING DAY FOR THE BAGGAGE ROOM

Three Days to Prepare and One to Yank it Out of Position

This morning the baggage room and express office was moved by a force of railroad men into close proximity with the freight office. Work has been continued since last Saturday getting preparations and the passenger station will be moved within a few days. The Adams Express company will move into another location in a short time.

CONCLUDE STUDY OF MISSIONARY TOPIC

Women's Foreign Missionary Society Holds Round Table Meeting

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. C. Crill of Fifth street yesterday and devoted the afternoon to the conclusion of the study "Western Women in Eastern Lands." The program was in charge of Mrs. Bosson, who conducted a round table of the society on the subject "Problems and Policies."

Mrs. F. J. John spoke on the subject, "What United Study Has Accomplished." A reading, "With the Keepers at Home" was given by Miss Stella Glunt. Verses of scripture on the Resurrection answered the roll call.

Following the service a social hour was spent and the hostess served refreshments.

BAPTISTS WILL PLAY THE STREET CAR MEN

Game Scheduled for Next Friday on the Local Grounds

Probably the first game of baseball to be played on a local diamond will be next Friday, April 14, when the Baptist team of the Church league and a team from the West Side Street Railway barn will play. It will be a try-out for Baptist players.

Socialist Quartet Closes the Season

The Socialist quartet concert company appeared last night at the Turner Hall in the concluding number of the Socialist entertainment course. An excellent program was rendered by the company which consisted mostly of Socialist songs.

DIES AT THE HOME OF SON

Michelle Martucci Expires
After an Illness of
Two Years

Michelle Martucci, 67 years old, died at 12:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of his son, G. A. Martucci, 619 Fallowfield avenue. He had been in ill health for two years. The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning at the Mother of Sorrows Italian Catholic church, with Rev. Joseph Daniels in charge of the services.

Mr. Martucci is survived by his wife, two sons and one daughter. He has been a citizen of Charleroi for eight years, and is well known. His son, G. A. Martucci, is the well known barber of Fallowfield avenue.

Disposes of His Tea Business on Washington Avenue

William T. Moss, the tea man, has disposed of his store and business on the corner of Fifth street and Washington avenue to the National Tea company of Pittsburgh, known as Armstrong Bros. The new concern will use the room occupied by Mr. Moss merely as a store room, and will handle all their trade from the Pittsburgh office. Mr. Moss worked for Armstrong Bros. for seven years before entering business for himself in Charleroi. He has not decided what business he may take up, but may go on a farm. R. P. Hess and C. H. Bly, who have been employed by Mr. Moss will continue work with the new company.

FORMER TOWNSHIP PEOPLE IN OHIO

The following letter from Deerfield, Ohio, where a number of former Fallowfield township people and others from this section are located, will be of interest to many readers:

Eli Hormell and son, John, formerly of Coal Center, Pa., are spending a few weeks with friends in Ohio.

The friends of Orville Watkins will be pleased to hear he is improving and is able to sit up. Walter Watkins moved to Lima, Pa. on a farm near Kenneth Ryland and family.

Joseph Kistler returned home after spending a few days in Pennsylvania. M. J. Far purchased a farm in Edenburg township and moved his family here last week from Pennsylvania.

John Hannen who has been on the sick list is well again.

Mrs. Eli Lilly who has been having grip is much improved. Ben Winnett was at Atwater on Saturday.

Charles Duval attended the class meeting held at J. J. Kiggins April 1. Clarence Eno is on the way to recovery after suffering from grip and pneumonia.

Miss Myrtle Hannen was a caller on her friend Miss Haynes on Saturday. A. J. Duval is building a porch for J. C. Hughes.

William Hormell moved near Alliance on the Houke farm.

Jerry Lewis is housed up with grip. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fry were callers at A. J. Duval's on Sunday.

WOULD PUT MINERS UNDER SUPERVISION OF STATE

Will Lecture on Temperance

Prof. Patton Will Speak at
Two Charleroi Churches
During this Week

Prof. H. D. Patton of Lancaster, a noted temperance lecturer of Pennsylvania, will tonight give a lecture at the Methodist Episcopal church on the topic, "A Deep and Wide Reach." Prof. Patton will lecture tomorrow evening at the First Christian church, his subject to be "The Concreteness of the Ballot." The lectures will begin each evening at 7:45 o'clock.

PREPARE TO HOLD TOURNAMENT

Committees Hard at Work for Knights
Templar Affair

MEETING AT PITTSBURG

Committees from a number of commanderies composing Division 2, Knights Templar of Pennsylvania are hard at work preparing for the tournament and reception to be given in the Pittsburgh Exposition building Tuesday evening, April 25. From the preparations being made the indications are that there will be one of the largest turnouts that ever attended an affair of the kind.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO GIVE CANTATA

Prof. I. T. Daniel Starts Rehearsal for School Outing Benefit Affair

Under the direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel, supervisor of music in the Charleroi schools, work has begun on the preparation of a cantata to be given as a benefit for the school outing fund. "Jolly Picnic Party" is the name of the cantata which will require about 50 voices for its rendition. It will be given about two weeks before the close of school.

Assemblyman Feeney Prepares Bill to Protect Workers

PROVIDES FOR EXAMINERS

Each County Would Have
Man Qualified to Grant
Certificates

Assemblyman William Feeney of Charleroi has introduced in the Legislature a bill bringing all bituminous miners under the supervision of the State. The bill, in brief, provides for examiners in each county, who are authorized to issue certificates; without such certificates no one can be employed as a miner in the soft coal mines.

Applicants for miner's certificates must produce evidence of two years' employment as a miner or laborer and answer personally in English at least twelve questions pertaining to work of a practical miner.

No person can work as a miner without a certificate provided nor can any employer suffer to be employed any such person not holding such a certificate. The penalty is a fine of from $10 to $50 and imprisonment for from one month to six months.

FAREWELL RECEPTION GIVEN MRS. BEIGEL

Mrs. L. Beigel, who will leave Charleroi in about two weeks for her new home in Pittsburgh, was greatly surprised last evening, when 28 of her lady friends gathered at her home. When friends trooped in, one glance at Mrs. Beigel's face was sufficient to show that the surprise was nearly complete, yet there was a greater surprise in store when the ladies presented their hostess with a beautiful hand carved chair. Five hundred was the diversion of the evening and light refreshments were served, consisting of cake, ice cream and coffee. A very pleasant evening was spent, the only unpleasant thing being the thought that the circle was soon to be broken.

WILL SHOW ALBUM OF "JERUSHA DOW"

"Jerusha Dow's Album" will be given by the ladies of the Lutheran church in the School Hall on Tuesday evening, April 18. This will consist of 27 different characters of local prominent persons, ranging from the old grandmother to the baby; the entertainment promises to be one of the most entertaining that has appeared in town.

Attention Co. E.

All members of this company will report for drill at corner Washington avenue and Fifth street Friday night at 7 p. m. All members requiring new equipments will find them at the armory. Field. Sec. Capt. E. F. Micky of headquarters staff will hold an inspection at 8 o'clock. All members must be present. 20512 Chas. Wallgren, Capt.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Grant will return home today from Florida where they spent the winter.

J. K. Tener, Pres. S. A. Walton, Vice Pres. R. H. Rush, Cashier.

Charleroi's Chance

Advices from the State capital this morning state that the Sproul

$50,000,000 road bill has been amended in committee by adding seventy-three new main State highway routes to the 203 originally in the bill. The demands for additional routes were overwhelming and the communities interested got busy and asserted their claims which were generally recognized by the framers of the bill. So far as known no effort was made to include the river route in the plan.

This would be one of the most important highways in the State, and it is to be regretted that the opportunity to have it included in the plan was permitted to go by the board. In addition to being Charleroi's chance it presented the same opportunity to all the other river towns of the valley. While it is rather late to do anything now, the time for consideration may not have passed, and something may yet be accomplished. An improved highway along the river would be one of the most important thoroughfares in the whole state, connecting as it does so many large towns in a great industrial community.

When Charleroi got busy it had no trouble at all in getting the commissioners to act on the proposed county road improvement to Bentleyville.

This could probably have been accomplished any time during the past six years, as the grand jury sanctioned the improvement in 1905, but what was everybody's business was no-body's, and for want of action the improvement was not made. It would be a great thing to get the river boulevard included in the State plan of improvement, and it should not be permitted to lapse for lack of effort on the part of those who need it the most.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

While they are quarantining the dogs over at Monessen, wouldn't they just as leave quarantine them over this way too?

If we didn't know this was April, we would swear to goodness that it was March.

A greaser isn't dangerous when he is just ordinarily angry, but watch him tear up things when he gets really mad.

By the time the investigators get through investigating the city of Pittsburg it will be time to appoint another body to dig them out of the seas.

England is said to be considering a world-wide roundup of all anarchists. Yes, give it to them.

An anarchist is only a poor excuse for a lunatic.

You can drive a Lawrence county man to water, and contrary to custom before April 1, you can make him drink.

Lexowing promises to become fashionable in Pennsylvania.

Charleroi's old station is gradually getting chucked.

Champ Clark will have a gay time filling the place occupied so long by Uncle Joe.

Wearily Wiggles doesn't even hesitate when he finds people cleaning house. Instead he puts on his double quick march.

It's just about as hard for a thin man to get fat as it is for a fat man to get thin.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"An uneducated person is not necessarily ignorant," remarked a prominent railroad official of the valley a day or so ago. "What I mean is one without school training in the common branches. Years ago I happened to be located in one of the tannery towns up in the wilds of Elk county, where the peeling and handling of hemlock bark was a big industry. In the employ of the tanning company was a middle aged man who kept track of the bark received at the tanning yards. This man could not count above seven, and yet he was most accurate and reliable in his account of the material received and on hand.

"He used to stand on the bark stack and keep account of the number of cords of bark, as it was added to the stock, in this manner, after he had reached seven:

"Seven and one more, seven, and two more, seven and three more, seven and four more, seven and five more, seven and six more, two sevens, two sevens and one more," etc.

"His method by sevens was absolutely accurate, and it answered the purpose every bit as well as the usual methods of counting."

A visitor at the county seat the other day tells a story pulled off by an old attorney in the lobby of the hotel Selgel.

"In the early days of my career over in Greensburg," said the lawyer.

"I was assisting in the prosecution of an assault and battery case and in the course of the trial the defendant, an Irishman, was placed on the stand. In those days I used to think noise and bluster counted for a whole lot, so I roared out at the witness:

"It has been testified here that you berated the plaintiff and assailed him with a dangerous missile."

"It's a dam lie," said the Irishman. "I did nawthin' av the kind. I called him a lying pup and hit him wid a brick. That was all."

GUARDING THE KING.

Old English Methods When the Monarch Was Taken Sick.

The law raises peculiar safeguards round the person of the English sovereign in case of sickness. They are mere survivals in the present settled order of government, but at one time the opportunity which the king's incapacity afforded aspirants to the throne or treason makers to shorten his days at a minimum of risk of detection made the precautions reasonable.

"If the king be taken sick," says Coke in his "Institutes," "there ought to be a warrant issue from the privy council, addressed to certain physicians and surgeons, authorizing them to administer to the royal patient potions, syrups, laxatives, medicines, etc. Still, none of these should be given except by consent and advice of the council, and they ought to set down in writing everything done and administered, and they should compound all drugs themselves and not intrust their preparation to any apothecary."

Coke wrote thus of precedent in the year 1610, and today the law is practically as he found it, although at the present time in practice the privy council simply hears reports of the progress of the king's malady and leaves actual treatment entirely to the physicians in direct charge of the case.—Exchange.

GIANT TREES OF JAMAICA.

They Shed Masses of Beautiful Silk Cotton Every Year.

The silk cotton trees of Jamaica are one of the most striking natural features of this beautiful island, and visitors express much curiosity concerning them. The fiber of the cotton is too short for textile uses, but its quality is delicate and fine.

The trees are most interesting in structure. They reach a height of 200 or 300 feet. It is the largest tree on the island, and the branches often overhang more than an acre of ground.

Some of them are centuries old, dating back to the landing of the Spaniards. They have withstood the tropical winds of the region through the adaptation of their structure. The leaves are very few, and there are heavy masses of roots.

This giant tree flowers once a year. It bears a number of pods much the size and shape of a cucumber. These pods dry and burst, and out floats the beautiful cream colored silk cotton, covering the ground and sailing in the air for some distance. The seeds, of course, are borne on the silky filaments. This cotton is used at present only for pillows. Its use as gun cotton has been spoken of.

The trees are often felled by the native Jamaicans and hewn into canoes, which last for generations.—Christian Science Monitor.

Some Task.

The office manager turned to the new boy.

"Here, George," he said, "go into the next room and look up 'collaborate.' I am not quite sure about the spelling."

The boy disappeared and didn't return. The manager put the letter aside and took up some other duties.

Presently he remembered the boy and went out to look for him. He found the lad studying the big dictionary with great intentness.

"What are you doing, George?" he asked.

The boy looked around.

"I forgot the word you told me, sir," he replied, "an 'I'm lookin' through the book to find it."

The manager gasped.

"How far have you got?"

"I'm just finishing the second page, sir."

"That'll do, George."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fixing the Lesson.

Parson Saunders was a little perturbed one Sunday morning over some worldly matter and made a mistake in the reading of the Scriptural lessons. He read the second lesson where he should have read the first. As he neared the end of his reading the parson saw that he was in error. He saw that his congregation knew he was in error. How, then, to conclude? To conclude in the orthodox way—"here endeth the second lesson"—would hardly do, as it was not the second lesson, but the first. Nor, could it, on the other hand, be called the first lesson since properly it was the second? Parson Saunders, after a moment's thought, wisely and frankly concluded:

"Here endeth the wrong lesson."—New York Press.

Utterly Useless.

"Pa, what is a futile remark?"

"The one a man makes for the purpose of changing the subject when his wife complains because he has forgotten their wedding anniversary."—Chicago Record-Herald.

She Was Wise.

"I asked Miss Jimps to sing something, and she refused point blank. Is she grouchy?"

"No. She's trying to make a hit with you. Cheer up."—Toledo Blade.

A Sound Reason.

"Missus—Didn't you hear me calling, Jane? Jane—Yes'm, but you told me the other day never to answer you back."—Throne and Country.

Whatever enlarges hope will exalt courage.—Johnson.

Schoolboy Blunders.

The University Correspondent recently offered a prize for schoolboy mistakes. Here are a few examples:

"Mute, inglorious Milton"—these epigrams are used by a writer who was envious of Milton's being poet laureate. He finds "sermons in stones" expresses the same idea as Wordsworth's "the restless stone chat all day long is heard." Calvin was a noted scientist and peer, who died lately. Naples is an independent state in the north of India. Shakespeare made a mistake in mentioning Galen, who did not live until a hundred years after his time. The feminine of fox is foxhen. John Burns was the name of one of the claimants to the throne of Scotland in the reign of Edward I. The pyramids are a range of mountains between France and Spain. The three highest mountains in Scotland are Ben Nevis, Ben Lomond and Ben Jonson. Wolsey saved his life by dying on the way from York to London. When the English first landed in Australia the only four footed animal in the country was a rat. Monsoons are fertile gorges between the Himalayas.

When Bjornson Died.

Bjornson's son, in describing the last hours of his father, writes: "Now and then the bright flame of his humor flickered up. The doctor felt his pulse and said it was good. With his face beaming with humor he turned toward us and said, 'I am the first man to die with a good pulse.' He said one even ing—and it seemed as if an old wise man was speaking with the weight of experience, 'Now I could write—yes, now I could write, for I have been in the realms of death and have felt the pain that attends death.' And when all of us thought that the indifference of death was upon him—my mother, who always gave him his food, which he would receive only from her, stood at the bedside with a brooch on her breast which she had worn at her confirmation—then he opened his eyes and looked at her. He smiled, lifted his hand and touched the brooch. This was the last sign to the outer world he was able to give."

A Cold Ride.

All through his life Senator Dolliver of Iowa had a horror of fast trains and possible railroad wrecks. Once he was on a train with Vice President Fairbanks.

Dolliver awoke in the middle of the night, and it seemed to him that the train was going at terrific speed. He climbed out of his berth and, arrayed only in his pajamas, started down the length of the train to find the conductor and ask him to order the train run at less speed. It was a cold night, but the senator did not mind that until the door of his car snapped shut and locked behind him and he found that the door of the next coach was also locked. He rode sixty-five miles locked out in the cold of the vestibule before he could wake up anybody to let him in. Mr. Fairbanks finally heard his cries for help and rescued him.—New York Tribune.

Necks and Legs of Animals.

With few exceptions there is a marked equality between the length of the necks and of the legs of both birds and quadrupeds, and whether they be long or short is determined chiefly by the place where the animal must go for its food. This is especially noticeable in beasts that feed constantly upon grass, in which case the neck has just a slight advantage in that it cannot hang perpendicularly down. Crocodiles, lizards and fish have practically no necks. Fowls that feed in the water also offer an example of this correspondence between the members, with the exception of swans and geese and some Indian birds, which gather their food from the bottom of pools and must have long necks for that purpose, while the short legs make it more convenient for them to swim.—Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette.

A Story Peps Tells.

Peps tells in his diary that in the reign of King Charles II. a customer bargaining with a London merchant for claret hired a confederate to "thunder" (which he had the art of doing upon a deal board) and to rain and hail—that is, make the noise of—as to give them a pretense of undervaluing their merchant's wines, by saying this thunder would spoil and turn them, which was so reasonable to the merchant that he did abate two pils-tolls per tun for the wine in belief of that."

A Mighty Difference.

Brougham used to tell an anecdote about the flight from Waterloo. Napoleon was greatly depressed. His aide riding beside him thought he might be sorrowing over the loss of so many old comrades at arms and tried to comfort him by saying that Wellington also must have lost many friends. "He has not lost the battle," was the reply.

Utterly Useless.

"Pa, what is a futile remark?"

"The one a man makes for the purpose of changing the subject when his wife complains because he has forgotten their wedding anniversary."—Chicago Record-Herald.

She Was Wise.

"I asked Miss Jimps to sing something, and she refused point blank. Is she grouchy?"

"No. She's trying to make a hit with you. Cheer up."—Toledo Blade.

A Sound Reason.

"Missus—Didn't you hear me calling, Jane? Jane—Yes'm, but you told me the other day never to answer you back."—Throne and Country.

How I Removed Pimples and Blackheads from My Face

"I have been bothered for a number of years with blackheads and pimples on my face. I have tried a number of remedies from physicians, with little or no improvement. More than a year ago I thought I would try Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and after taking it for a period of two months, I found a decided improvement. My face is now free from pimples and blackheads, and I cannot thank you enough for your wonderful remedy. I would be glad to let everybody know the benefit I derived from its use."—Mrs. CHARLES B. ANDERSON, Box 52, Creston, Wash.

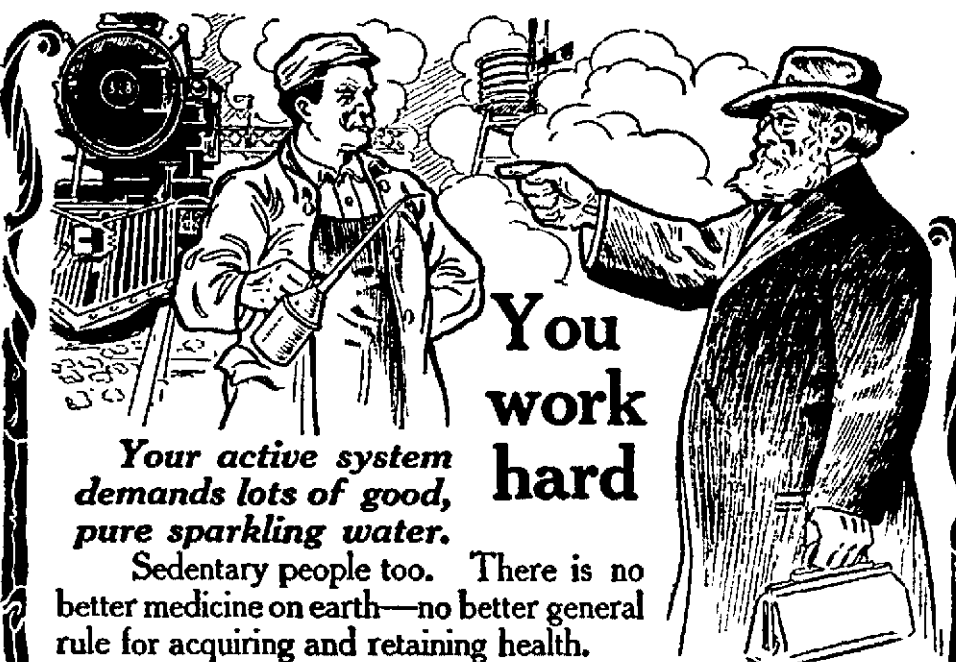

The most common indications of impure, impoverished blood are humors and eruptions, and they are usually the fore-runner of more serious consequences which come from an unhealthy state of the blood.

All that is necessary is a good, home treatment, frequent bathing, fresh air, wholesome, nutritious, easily digested food, and the regular use of Pinkham's Blood Purifier. In this way the blood is purified and enriched. Pimples, eruptions, and blackheads disappear and the complexion will become clear and healthy.

You may be perfectly sure that Pinkham's Blood Purifier is just as reliable as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its makers could not risk their unequalled reputation among their vast army of friends by recommending a remedy that was not honest.

PERSISTENT BEGGARS.

The More Egyptian Mendicants Get the More They Demand.

In Egypt one should never give baksheesh except for actual services rendered. Resist calmly but firmly every attempt at extortion. Never pay till the stipulated service is finished; then, after you have paid a little more than the bargain called for, turn a deaf ear to the protestations and entreaties that always follow. Bear in mind that the more baksheesh you give the more clamorous becomes the applicant. Real thanks and gratitude must not be expected for gifts.

A friend of mine once broke one of these rules just to see what would happen. As we passed through a little mud village twenty miles from Cairo he gave a sturdy beggar a millieme (half a cent). This beggar, accompanied by others, followed us to the edge of the village, asking for more. My friend then gave him a plaster (5 cents).

They followed us a hundred yards or so and were more persistent than before. When they showed a disposition to go back he gave them 5 plasters. They followed us half a mile and became very clamorous. I was afraid we should get into trouble and wanted him to stop it, but when they began to lag he gave them 20 plasters.

They followed us two miles, and the experiment might have ended seriously had we not met a company of travelers with a dragoman, who sent the beggars about their business. This may help you to understand Egyptian character.—Christian Herald.

LAPLAND BABIES.

For Their First Few Months They Live in Wicker Baskets.

Little Laplanders spend the first few months of their existence in baskets of wickerwork provided at the top with a conical framework too close for the baby to fall through and yet giving the infant plenty of light and air.

Before commencing her work for the day the Lapp mother places her child in the basket and hangs it on the limb of some nearby tree, occupation being found for the little one by stringing toys under a cord passed across the top of the basket.

Thus provided the child spends the entire day in the open and yet at the same time is guarded from the troubles and dangers of outdoor child life in other countries.

The basket idea curiously parallels the Indian idea of strapping the papoose into a carrying case, but the Lapp baby has the advantage over its Indian fellow in that its limbs are unconfined and a certain amount of liberty of movement is afforded.

The child is carried from place to place in the same basket, the cord by which it is attached to a tree being slung over the shoulder.

Fossils and Gold.

In Alaska the bones and often the entire bodies of extinct animals, such as the mammoth, the mastodon, the reindeer and the bison, are found most abundantly in layers of soil directly above gold bearing gravels. So intimate is this association between fossil animal remains and auriferous deposits that one scientist who has explored Alaska says fossils serve prospectors as indexes of the metallic richness of the soil. In ancient times both gold and the bones of animals were deposited at the bottoms of valleys by action of rivers and smaller streams, many of which have now disappeared; consequently the appearance of fossils is, it is claimed, an almost certain indication that gold will be found in the neighborhood. The cabins of many miners are ornamented with huge tusks and antlers unearthed in the diggings.—New York Tribune.

Definite Instructions.

Telegraphers have their troubles, like the rest of mankind, and the men who follow the dots and dashes tell stories based upon actual happenings that almost test the credulity of the hearer. A man now in charge of a Postal office is responsible for the following, which occurred to him when he was holding down a key in an obscure place in the suburbs:

"A farmer came in one day and handed me a message to 'Mrs. Smith, New York city.' I asked for the address, and my patron, looking at me with a pitying smile, replied:

"Sonny, you just send it to Mrs. Smith, who keeps a boarding house in New York. Don't let any one know you don't know where her place is."—Philadelphia Times.

Followed Instructions.

She was a woman of very puritanical notions, and when she came into his room to kiss her little boy good night and found that he had not said his prayers she was very much shocked. "How was it, Willie," she asked, "that you neglected such an important duty?"

"You see, mamma," he replied, "when dad sent me in a hurry to bed he said there mustn't be another word out of me tonight."—Lippincott's.

Just the Very Trouble.

A French scientist says that the oceans hold enough gold in solution to give each inhabitant of the earth $24,000,000. The trouble is that they will continue to hold it.—Albany Journal.

Might Is Right.

We have noticed that when two boys are playing with a wagon the smaller boy is pretty apt to be the horse.—Atholton Globe.

Mercy turns her back to the unmerciful.—Quarles.

How To Stop Stubborn Cough

We don't mean just stop the irritation in your throat—but cure the underlying cause.

Cough syrups cannot do this. It takes a constitutional tonic body builder to do the work properly—and cure you to stay cured. Vinol is the remedy you need.

HERE IS PROOF

Mrs. Minnie Osgood, of Glens Falls, N. Y., writes: "After trying several remedies for a bad cough and cold without benefit, I was asked to try Vinol. It worked like magic. It cured my cold and cough and I gained in health and strength. I consider Vinol the most wonderful tonic and invigorator I ever saw."

If we cannot stop that cough with VINOL—our delicious cod liver and iron tonic—which is made without oil—we will not charge you a cent for the medicine you buy. This seems like a pretty fair proposition—and ought to be accepted. Don't you think so? With this understanding we ask you to try a bottle of VINOL.

YOUR KIDNEY'S NEED CLEANING

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy, ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough Cleaning Right Now

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise and yet the teeth are not one-tenth so important to health strength and long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes again and again?

And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood, and it stays in the blood and causes disease in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism, for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid gets into the blood only when the kidneys are clogged up and are unable to properly strain the impurities.

Just go to W. F. Hennings today and get a bottle of Thompson's Barosma, the most scientific kidney, liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known, take it regularly for two weeks, and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder, and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed by W. F. Hennings to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder, or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier and will bring the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

W. B. Pfeighart is holding his spring opening today at his furniture store on Fallowfield avenue. The store is finely decorated and there are many visitors inspecting the store.

Fred W. Cooper, who has been confined to home on Sixth street by pneumonia is able to be out, and is in Pittsburgh today.

REPORT FAVORABLE TO RIVER BRIDGE EXPECTED

Railroad Work Held Up
for the Time
Being

BUILDING TO STATE LINE

Buckhannon and Northern
and P. & L. E. Will Make
Connections

The early construction of the new Monongahela railroad bridge across the Monongahela river at Millsboro, a short distance above Geneva hinges upon the report of the secretary of war on the plans into the hands of Colonel H. C. Newcomer, Federal engineer, Pittsburg, in charge of the Monongahela river. It is thought by officials of the Monongahela Railroad company that the plans will be approved by the secretary of war shortly and that the order will be given by Pittsburg and Lake Erie officials to begin the construction of the extension of the Monongahela railroad from the present terminus at Martin to the West Virginia State line, connecting with the Buckhannon and Northern railroad, now being built from the state line to Rivesville, W. Va.

In event of an adverse report by the secretary of war, there is a possibility of a change in the present plans and the construction of the other connections with the Buckhannon and Northern.

The work on the Buckhannon and Northern is progressing nicely. The contractors have been seriously hampered by the bad weather of the past month, but considerable grading has been done. There are approximately 600 men on the job now.

The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning at the Mother of Sorrows Italian Catholic church, with Rev. Joseph Daniels in charge of the services.

Mr. Martucci is survived by his widow, two sons and one daughter. He has been a citizen of Charleroi for eight years, and is well known.

His son, G. A. Martucci, is the well known barber of Fallowfield avenue.

Disposes of His Tea Business on Washington Avenue

William T. Moss, the tea man, has disposed of his store and business on the corner of Fifth street and Washington avenue to the National Tea company of Pittsburg, known as Armstrong Bros. The new concern will use the room occupied by Mr. Moss merely as a store room, and will handle all their trade from the Pittsburg office. Mr. Moss worked for Armstrong Bros. for seven years before entering business for himself in Charleroi. He has not decided what business he may take up, but may go on a farm. R. P. Hess and C. H. The following letter from Deerfield, Ohio, where a number of former Fallowfield township people and others from this section are located, will be of interest to many readers:

Eli Hornell and son, John, formerly of Coal Center, Pa., are spending a few weeks with friends in Ohio.

The friends of Orville Watkins will be pleased to hear he is improving and is able to sit up.

Walter Watkins moved to Lima, Pa. on a farm near Kenneth Ryland and family.

Joseph Kietler returned home after spending a few days in Pennsylvania. M. J. Far purchased a farm in Edenburg township and moved his family here last week from Pennsylvania.

John Hannen who has been on the sick list is well again.

Mrs. Eli Lilly who has been having grip is much improved.

Ben Winnett was at Atwater on Saturday.

Charles Duval attended the class meeting held at J. J. Higgins April 1.

Clarence Eno is on the way to recovery after suffering from grip and pneumonia.

Miss Myrtle Hannen was a caller on her friend Miss Haynes on Saturday.

A. J. Duval is building a porch for J. C. Hughes.

William Hornell moved near Alliance on the Houke farm.

Jerry Lewis is housed up with grip. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fry were callers at A. J. Duval's on Sunday.

MEETING AT PITTSBURG

Committees from a number of commanderies composing Division 2, Knights Templar of Pennsylvania are hard at work preparing for the tour and reception to be given in the Pittsburg Exposition building Tuesday evening, April 25. From the preparations being made the indications are that there will be one of the largest turnouts that ever attended an affair of the kind.

The committee from McKean Commandery No. 80 consists of the following: Sirs Charles H. Steele, Frank Arrison, Frank Bly, Will M. Gault, Kerfoot W. Daly, R. H. Rush, Barry J. Repman, Earl E. Piper, W. F. Allen, W. C. McAllister, George W. Cooper, William A. Allen, William Flantz, Paul E. Teschke, William P. Kirk, George C. Schlehr, John E. Barron, Joseph H. Underwood, Sir Frank J. John, secretary, Sir Charles S. McKean treasurer.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO GIVE CANTATA

Prof. I. T. Daniel Starts Rehearsal for School Outing Benefit Affair

Under the direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel, superior of music in the Charleroi schools, work has begun on the preparation of a cantata to be given as a benefit for the school outing fund. "Jolly Picnic Party" is the name of the cantata which will require about 50 voices for its rendition. It will be given about two weeks before the close of school.

PROVIDES FOR EXAMINERS

Each County Would Have Men Qualified to Grant
Certificates

Assemblyman William Feeney of Charleroi has introduced in the Legislature a bill bringing all bituminous miners under the supervision of the State. The bill, in brief, provides for examiners in each county, who are authorized to issue certificates; without such certificates no one can be employed as a miner in the soft coal mines.

Applicants for miner's certificates must produce evidence of two years' employment as a miner or laborer and answer personally in English at least twelve questions pertaining to work of a practical miner.

No person can work as a miner without a certificate provided nor can any employer suffer to be employed any such person not holding such a certificate. The penalty is a fine of from $10 to $50 and imprisonment for from one month to six months.

FAREWELL RECEPTION GIVEN MRS. BEIGEL

Mrs. L. Beigel, who will leave Charleroi in about two weeks for her new home in Pittsburg, was greatly surprised last evening, when 28 of her lady friends gathered at her home. When friends trooped in, one glance at Mrs. Beigel's face was sufficient to show that the surprise was nearly complete, yet there was a greater surprise in store when the ladies presented their hostess with a beautiful hand carved chair. Five hundred was the diversion of the evening and light refreshments were served, consisting of cake, ice cream and coffee. A very pleasant evening was spent, the only unpleasant thing being the thought that the circle was soon to be broken.

WILL SHOW ALBUM OF "JERUSA DOW"

"Jerusa Dow's Album" will be given by the ladies of the Lutheran church in the School Hall on Tuesday evening, April 18. This will consist of 27 different characters of local prominent persons, ranging from the old grandmother to the baby; the entertainment promises to be one of the most entertaining that has appeared in town.

Charleroi's Chance

Advices from the State capital this morning state that the Sprout $30,000,000 road bill has been amended in committee by adding seventy-three new main State highway routes to the 203 originally in the bill. The demands for additional routes were overwhelming and the communities interested got busy and asserted their claims which were generally recognized by the framers of the bill. So far as known no effort was made to include the river route in the plan. This would be one of the most important highways in the State, and it is to be regretted that the opportunity to have it included in the plan was permitted to go by the board. In addition to being Charleroi's chance it presented the same opportunity to all the other river towns of the valley. While it is rather late to do anything now, the time for consideration may not have passed, and something may yet be accomplished. An improved highway along the river would be one of the most important thoroughfares in the whole state, connecting as it does so many large towns in a great industrial community.

When Charleroi got busy it had no trouble at all in getting the commissioners to act on the proposed county road improvement to Bentleyville. This could probably have been accomplished any time during the past six years, as the grand jury sanctioned the improvement in 1905, but what was everybody's business was nobody's, and for want of action the improvement was not made. It would be a great thing to get the river boulevard included in the State plan of improvement, and it should not be permitted to lapse for lack of effort on the part of those who need it the most.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"An uneducated person is not necessarily ignorant," remarked a prominent railroad official of the valley a day or so ago. "What I mean is one without school training in the common branches. Years ago I happened to be located in one of the tannery towns up in the wilds of Elk county, where the peeling and handling of hemlock bark was a big industry. In the employ of the tanning company was a middle aged man who kept track of the bark received at the tanning yards. This man could not count above seven, and yet he was most accurate and reliable in his account of the material received and on hand.

"He used to stand on the bark stack and keep account of the number of cords of bark, as it was added to the stock, in this manner, after he had reached seven: 'Seven and one more, seven and two more, seven and three more, seven and four more, seven and five more, seven and six more, two sevens, two sevens and one more,' etc.

"His method by sevens was absolutely accurate, and it answered the purpose every bit as well as the usual methods of counting."

A visitor at the county seat the other day tells a story pulled off by an old attorney in the lobby of the hotel Seigel.

"In the early days of my career over in Greensburg," said the lawyer, "I was assisting in the prosecution of an assault and battery case and in the course of the trial the defendant, an Irishman, was placed on the stand. In those days I used to think noise and bluster counted for a whole lot, so I roared out at the witness: 'It has been testified here that you berated the plaintiff and assailed him with a dangerous missile.'

"'It's a don lie,' said the Irishman. 'I did nawthin' av the kind. I called him a lying pup and hit him wid a brick. That was all.'"

GUARDING THE KING.

Old English Methods When the Monarch Was Taken Sick.

The law raises peculiar safeguards round the person of the English sovereign in case of sickness. They are more strict than in the present settled order of government, but at one time the opportunity which the king's incapacity afforded aspirants to the throne or treason makers to shorten his days at a minimum of risk of detection made the precautions reasonable.

"If the king be taken sick," says Coke in his "Institutes," "there ought to be a warrant issue from the privy council, addressed to certain physicians and surgeons, authorizing them to administer to the royal patient potions, syrups, laxatives, medicines, etc. Still, none of these should be given except by consent and advice of the council, and they ought to set down in writing everything done and administered, and they should compound all drugs themselves and not intrust their preparation to any apothecary."

Coke wrote thus of precedent in the year 1610, and today the law is practically as he found it, although at the present time in practice the privy council simply bears reports of the progress of the king's malady and leaves actual treatment entirely to the physicians in direct charge of the case.—Exchange.

GIANT TREES OF JAMAICA.

They Shed Masses of Beautiful Silk Cotton Every Year.

The silk cotton trees of Jamaica are one of the most striking natural features of this beautiful island, and visitors express much curiosity concerning them. The fiber of the cotton is too short for textile uses, but its quality is delicate and fine.

The trees are most interesting in structure. They reach a height of 200 or 300 feet. It is the largest tree on the island, and the branches often overhang more than an acre of ground. Some of them are centuries old, dating back to the landing of the Spaniards. They have withstood the tropical winds of the region through the adaptation of their structure. The leaves are very few, and there are heavy masses of roots.

This giant tree flowers once a year. It bears a number of pods much the size and shape of a cucumber. These pods dry and burst, and out floats the beautiful cream colored silk cotton, covering the ground and sailing in the air for some distance. The seeds, of course, are borne on the silky filaments. This cotton is used at present only for pillows. Its use as gun cotton has been spoken of.

The trees are often feiled by the native Jamaicans and hewn into canoes, which last for generations.—Christian Science Monitor.

Some Task.

The office manager turned to the new boy.

"Here, George," he said, "go into the next room and look up 'collaborate.' I am not quite sure about the spelling."

The boy disappeared and didn't return. The manager put the letter aside and took up some other duties. Presently he remembered the boy and went out to look for him. He found the lad studying the big dictionary with great intensity.

"What are you doing, George?" he asked.

The boy looked around.

"I forgot the word you told me, sir," he replied, "an 'I'm lookin' through the book to find it."

The manager gasped.

"How far have you got?"

"I'm just finishing the second page, sir."

"That'll do, George."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fixing the Lesson.

Parson Saunders was a little perturbed one Sunday morning over some worldly matter and made a mistake in the reading of the Scriptural lessons. He read the second lesson where he should have read the first. As he neared the end of his reading the parson saw that he was in error. He saw that his congregation knew he was in error. How, then, to conclude? To conclude in the orthodox way—"here endeth the second lesson"—would hardly do, as it was not the second lesson, but the first. Nor, could it, on the other hand, be called the first lesson since properly it was the second? Parson Saunders, after a moment's thought, wisely and frankly concluded:

"Here endeth the wrong lesson."—New York Press.

Very Considerate.

"I suppose, Jennie, you wouldn't want to go to the concert Wednesday in your old hat?"

"You dear thing! I couldn't possibly think of showing myself in it."

"That's what I thought, so I—"

"What?"

"Bought only one ticket to the concert."—Megendorfer Blatter.

The Aspect.

"The school board, the police board and the jail board are all in the line-up at once for trouble."

"Yes, it certainly does seem as if our city public affairs were going by the board."—New York Journal.

The Harvest.

The law of the harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act and you reap a habit; sow a habit and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap a destiny.—George D. Boardman.

True friends have no solitary joy or sorrow.—Channing.

Schoolboy Blunders.

The University Correspondent recently offered a prize for schoolboy mistakes. Here are a few examples: "Mute, inglorious Milton"—these epithets are used by a writer who was curious of Milton's being poet laureate, as "serious in stones" expresses the same idea as Wordsworth's "the restless stone chat all day long is heard." Calvin was a noted scientist and peer, who died lately. Naples is an independent state in the north of India. Shakespeare made a mistake in mentioning Guine, who did not live until a hundred years after his time. The feminine of fox is foxhen. John Burns was the name of one of the claimants to the throne of Scotland in the reign of Edward I. The pyramids are a range of mountains between France and Spain. The three highest mountains in Scotland are Ben Nevis, Ben Lomond and Ben Jonson. Wolsey saved his life by dying on the way from York to London. When the English first landed in Australia the only four footed animal in the country was a rat. Monsoons are fertile gorges between the Himalayas.

When Bjornson Died.

Bjornson's son, in describing the last hours of his father, writes: "Now and then the bright flame of his humor flared up. The doctor felt his pulse and said it was good. With his face beaming with humor he turned toward us and said, 'I am the first man to die with a good pulse.' He said one evening—'and it seemed as if an old wise man was speaking with the weight of experience. 'Now I could write—yes, now I could write, for I have been in the realms of death and have felt the pain that attends death.' And when all of us thought that the indifference of death was upon him—my mother, who always gave him his food, which he would receive only from her, stood at the bedside with a brooch on her breast which she had worn at her confirmation—then he opened his eyes and looked at her. He smiled, lifted his hand and touched the brooch. This was the last sign to the outer world he was able to give."

A Cold Ride.

All through his life Senator Dolliver of Iowa had a horror of fast trains and possible railroad wrecks. Once he was on a train with Vice President Fairbanks.

Dolliver awoke in the middle of the night, and it seemed to him that the train was going at terrific speed. He climbed out of his berth and, arrayed only in his pajamas, started down the length of the train to find the conductor and ask him to order the train run at less speed. It was a cold night, but the senator did not mind that until the door of his car snapped shut and locked behind him and he found that the door of the next coach was also locked. He rode sixty-five miles locked out in the cold of the vestibule before he could wake up anybody to let him in. Mr. Fairbanks finally heard his cries for help and rescued him.—New York Tribune.

Necks and Legs of Animals.

With few exceptions there is a marked equality between the length of the necks and of the legs of both birds and quadrupeds, and whether they be long or short is determined chiefly by the place where the animal must go for its food. This is especially noticeable in beasts that feed constantly upon grass, in which case the neck has just a slight advantage in that it cannot hang perpendicularly down. Crocodiles, lizards and fish have practically no necks. Fowls that feed in the water also offer an example of this correspondence between the members, with the exception of swans and geese and some Indian birds, which gather their food from the bottom of pools and must have long necks for that purpose, while the short legs make it more convenient for them to swim.—Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette.

A Story Peppy Tells.

Peppy tells in his diary that in the reign of King Charles II. a customer bargaining with a London merchant for claret hired a confederate to "thunder (which he had the art of doing upon a deal board) and to rain and hail—that is, make the noise of—so as to give them a pretense of undervaluing their merchant's wines, by saying this thunder would spoil and turn them, which was so reasonable to the merchant that he did abate two pistols per ton for the wine in belief of that."

A Mighty Difference.

Brougham used to tell an anecdote about the flight from Waterloo. Napoleon was greatly depressed. His aid riding beside him thought he might be sorrowing over the loss of so many old comrades at arms and tried to comfort him by saying that Wellington also must have lost many friends. "He has not lost the battle," was the reply.

Utterly Useless.

"Pa, what is a futile remark?"

"The one a man makes for the purpose of changing the subject when his wife complains because he has forgotten their wedding anniversary."—Chicago Record-Herald.

She Was Wise.

"I asked Miss Jimps to sing something, and she refused point blank. Is she grouchy?"

"No. She's trying to make a hit with you. Cheer up."—Toledo Blade.

A Sound Reason.

"Mistress—Didn't you hear me calling, Jane? Jane—Yes'm, but you told me the other day never to answer you back."—Throne and Country.

He Was Too Enthusiastic.

Hank Dobbs was noted as an "hot" horse trader. He would not lie about a horse. He would merely suppress the truth. Incidentally he always beat the customer who dealt with him. The way he could slur over the defects and buzz about the virtues of an animal amounted to genius.

Once Hank was trying to sell a neighbor a horse that had an eye which was nearly sightless. The neighbor knew Hank would not lie outright to him, so he questioned the horse trader as to the various points of the brute.

"How about his eyesight? Can he see out of both eyes?"

"Sure," said Hank. "He's got good eyes." Here he leaned forward, his eyes fairly scintillating with suppressed honesty. "One eye is particularly good."

Hank's enthusiasm for the truth had carried him too far. The deal was out.—Tulsa (Okla.) Post.

Hair Monstrosities.

French theater managers in the eighteenth century had worse evils than picture hats to contend against. Marie Antoinette, who was short, even according to French standards, set the fashion of high coiffures and ultra-fashionable women prided themselves on measuring four feet from their chins to the tops of their heads. These structures took about six hours to erect, the hairdresser mounting a ladder in the process. Some coiffures were almost as broad as they were long, with wings sticking out about eight inches on each side of the head. For the "frigate" coiffure the hair was ripped in a huge pile to represent the waves of an angry sea and surmounted by a fully rigged ship. As a consequence of these monstrosities, disturbances in theaters occurred almost daily until an ordinance was issued against the admission of women with high coiffures to the floor of the house.

How I Removed Pimples and Blackheads from My Face

"I have been bothered for a number of years with blackheads and pimples on my face. I have tried a number of remedies from physicians, with little or no improvement. More than a year ago I thought I would try Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and after taking it for a period of two months, I found a decided improvement. My face is now free from pimples and blackheads, and I cannot thank you enough for your wonderful remedy. I would be glad to let everybody know the benefit I derived from its use."—Mrs. CHARLES B. ANDERSON, Box 52, Creston, Wash.

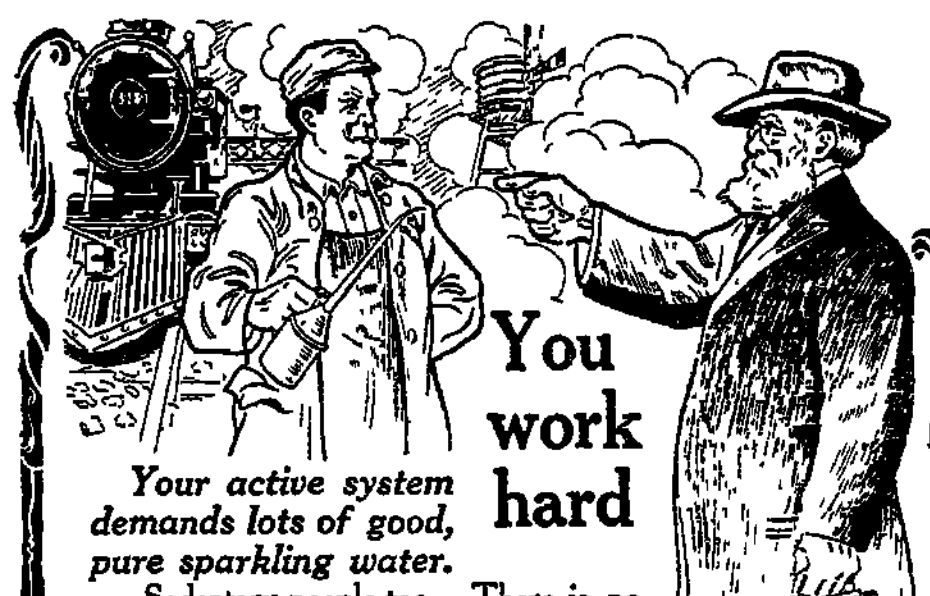

The most common indications of impure, impoverished blood are humors and eruptions, and they are usually the fore-runner of more serious consequences which come from an unhealthy state-of the blood.

All that is necessary is a good, home treatment, frequent bathing, fresh air, wholesome, nutritious, easily digested food, and the regular use of Pinkham's Blood Purifier. In this way the blood is purified and enriched. Pimples, eruptions, and blackheads disappear and the complexion will become clear and healthy.

You may be perfectly sure that Pinkham's Blood Purifier is just as reliable as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its makers could not risk their unequalled reputation among their vast army of friends by recommending a remedy that was not honest.

PERSISTENT BEGGARS.

The More Egyptian Mendicants Get the More They Demand.

In Egypt one should never give baksheesh except for actual services rendered. It is almost impossible to get any service without attempting to extort it. Never pay till the stipulated service is finished; then, after you have paid a little more than the bargain called for, turn a deaf ear to the protestations and entreaties that always follow. Bear in mind that the more baksheesh you give the more clamorous becomes the applicant. Real thanks and gratitude must not be expected for gifts.

A friend of mine once broke one of these rules just to see what would happen. As we passed through a little mud village twenty miles from Cairo he gave a sturdy beggar a milhem (half a cent). This beggar, accompanied by others, followed us to the edge of the village, asking for more. My friend then gave him a plaster (8 cents).

They followed us a hundred yards or so and were more persistent than before. When they showed a disposition to go back he gave them 5 piasters. They followed us half a mile and became very clamorous. I was afraid we should get into trouble and wanted him to stop it, but when they began to lag he gave them 20 piasters.

They followed us two miles, and the experiment might have ended seriously had we not met a company of travelers with a dragoman, who sent the beggars about their business. This may help you to understand Egyptian character.—Christian Herald

LAPLAND BABIES.

For Their First Few Months They Live in Wicker Baskets

Little Laplanders spend the first few months of their existence in baskets of wickerwork provided at the top with a conical framework too close for the baby to fall through and yet giving the infant plenty of light and air.

Before commencing her work for the day the Lapp mother places her child in the basket and hangs it on the limb of some nearby tree, occupation being found for the little one by stringing toys under a cord passed across the top of the basket.

Thus provided the child spends the entire day in the open and yet at the same time is guarded from the troubles and dangers of outdoor child life in other countries.

The basket idea curiously parallels the Indian idea of strapping the papoose into a carrying case, but the Lapp baby has the advantage over its Indian fellow in that its limbs are unconfined and a certain amount of liberty of movement is afforded.

The child is carried from place to place in the same basket, the cord by which it is attached to a tree being slung over the shoulder.

Fossils and Gold.

In Alaska the bones and often the entire bodies of extinct animals, such as the mammoth, the mastodon, the reindeer and the bison, are found more abundantly in layers of soil directly above gold bearing gravels. So intimate is this association between fossil animal remains and auriferous deposits that one scientist who has explored Alaska says fossils serve prospectors as indexes of the metallic richness of the soil. In ancient times both gold and the bones of animals were deposited at the bottoms of valleys by action of rivers and smaller streams, many of which have now disappeared; consequently the appearance of fossils is, it is claimed, an almost certain indication that gold will be found in the neighborhood. The cabins of many miners are ornamented with huge tusks and antlers unearthed in the diggings.—New York Tribune.

Definite Instructions.

Telegraphers have their troubles, like the rest of mankind, and the men who follow the dots and dashes tell stories based upon actual happenings that almost test the credulity of the hearer. A man now in charge of a Postal office is responsible for the following, which occurred to him when he was holding down a key in an obscure place in the suburbs.

"A farmer came in one day and handed me a message to 'Mrs. Smith, New York city.' I asked for the address, and my patron, looking at me with a pitying smile, replied:

"Sonny, you just send it to Mrs. Smith, who keeps a boarding house in New York. Don't let any one know you don't know where her place is."—Philadelphia Times.

Followed Instructions.

She was a woman of very puritanical notions, and when she came into his room to kiss her little boy good night and found that he had not said his prayers she was very much shocked. "How was it, Willie," she asked, "that you neglected such an important duty?"

"You see, mamma," he replied, "when dad sent me in a hurry to bed he said there mustn't be another word out of me tonight."—Lippincott's.

Just the Very Trouble.

A French scientist says that the oceans hold enough gold in solution to give each inhabitant of the earth $24,000,000. The trouble is that they will continue to hold it.—Albany Journal.

Might Is Right.

We have noticed that when two boys are playing with a wagon the smaller boy is pretty apt to be the horse.—Athletic Globe.

Mercy turns her back to the camera.—Quarles.

How To Stop Stubborn Cough

We don't mean just stop the irritation in your throat—but cure the underlying cause.

Cough syrups cannot do this. It takes a constitutional tonic body builder to do the work properly—and cure you to stay cured. Vinol is the remedy you need.

HERE IS PROOF

Mrs. Minnie Osgood, of Glen Falls, N. Y., writes: "After trying several remedies for a bad cough and cold without benefit, I was asked to try Vinol. It worked like magic. It cured my cold and cough and I gained in health and strength. I consider Vinol the most wonderful tonic and invigorator I ever saw."

If we cannot stop that cough with VINOL—our delicious cod liver and iron tonic—which is made without oil—we will not charge you a cent for the medicine you buy. This seems like a pretty fair proposition—and ought to be accepted. Don't you think so? With this understanding we ask you to try a bottle of VINOL.

YOUR KIDNEY'S NEED CLEANING

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy, ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough Cleaning Right Now

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise and yet the teeth are not one-tenth so important to health strength and long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes again and again?

And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood, and it stays in the blood and causes disease in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism, for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid gets into the blood only when the kidneys are clogged up and are unable to properly strain the impurities.

Just go to W. F. Hennings today and get a bottle of Thompson's Barosma, the most scientific kidney, liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known, take it regularly for two weeks, and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder, and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed by W. F. Hennings to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder, or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier and will bring the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

W. B. Pfeighart is holding his spring opening today at his furniture store on Fallowfield avenue. The store is finely decorated and there are many visitors inspecting the store.

Fred W. Cooper, who has been confined to home on Sixth street by pneumonia is able to be out, and is in Pittsburgh today.

Mrs. C. R. Perigren of Washington avenue is in Pittsburgh, being called there by the serious illness of a niece.
